

PRESS RELEASE

ISI STAFF ON HAND AT THE NATIONAL PLOUGHING CHAMPIONSHIPS TO HELP PEOPLE GET BACK ON TRACK WITH THEIR FINANCES

15th September 2016: The Insolvency Service of Ireland (ISI) has announced that it will be exhibiting at this year's National Ploughing Championships and will be on hand to offer information on its range of debt solutions.

Anita Jordan of the ISI has commented; "Debt problems are affecting people in communities up and down the country and the associated stress can be overwhelming, but with our solutions they can get back on track. We are delighted to exhibit at this year's National Ploughing Championships and we are encouraging anyone seeking information - be it for themselves or a friend or family member - to visit our stand located at Block 4, Row 11, Stand number 272."

The ISI, through its network of qualified professionals around the country – Personal Insolvency Practitioners and Approved Intermediaries – has helped thousands of people to get a fresh start. The solutions have been described as "life-changing" by many. Others refer to the "absolute relief" when an ISI solution is being put in place. Uniquely, while an ISI solution is being put in place, the person is protected from receiving calls and letters from lenders about their debts, offering much needed breathing space.

The ISI's solutions are suitable for all levels of debt. Further information is available on www.backontrack.ie. People can also call the ISI's information line at 076 106 4200 or freetext ISI to 50015 for a call back.
